Simplify and accelerate the aggregation of renewable energy communities

A renewable energy community is a group of citizens, entities, companies that come together to produce and share energy locally.

An app with a range of services and means to create a REC

We promote energy efficiency and renewable energy exchange

Renewable Energy Communities to share photovoltaic plants

For more info and download the App

www.sun4u.it - info@sun4u.it

DISPONIBILE SU Google Play

Scarica da App Store

f /sun4uproject

in /sun4u-project

youtube /@Sun4U-ok6os

Participate in the Sun4u Open call: a concrete support for the start-up of your Community. Go to the website for terms and regulations.

SUN4U
ENERGY FOR ALL

Your REC with a click

The App SUN4U

The SUN4U application is designed as a tool to facilitate the establishment, enhancement, and development of Renewable Energy Communities.

SUN4U offers accessible tools, financing solutions, information resources and expertise for citizens with the aim of helping to overcome the main difficulties in the development of this energy transition model.

The user is assisted through maps and simple questions in identifying the optimal community based on their own energy consumption characteristics: in uploading data, in using the information available for his area (ideal roofs, photovoltaic potential), in meeting other users (consumers, animators, providers, established RECs) and with technical and financial service providers that he can consult.

In the marketplace, service and resource providers and investors offer their services to Renewable Energy Community users and respond to their requests.

The project

The project, coordinated by Federesco, National Association of Energy Service Company, is part of the European project for sustainable urban development promoted with the call Action Fund 2.0 by ICLEI, a network of over 2,500 local and regional governments worldwide.

Calculate the rooftop solar potential

Find other users in your area

Create your REC group

Simulate your REC

Finance and develop your REC

Interact with technical and financial service providers in the marketplace